Mark will be performing on _____ (date)

at _____ (time) in the _____ (location).

Mark began his career as a children's television personality with Fox Kids. Wanting to be more in touch with youth, Mark left television in 1998 to travel around the country speaking to elementary, middle and high school audiences. He now focuses on pre-school and elementary aged audiences.

What makes Mark's music unique is the fact that Bernstein is targeting pre-school and elementary aged children – and their parents. Bernstein not only promises that kids will love his music but adults and parents will love the songs as well. "Being a father of two, I know how much they like to listen to the same song...over and over again. The last thing I want to do is drive parents crazy or bore them to no end. I make certain that my music appeals to all ages."

Bernstein interjects his upbringing into his music. Raised on 80s pop, Mark keeps his songs upbeat, melodic, and engaging. "Each song has a theme or message that I want to get across. Sometimes it's obvious and sometimes it's subtle. This is where parents and grandparents come in. I want my music to serve as something that families can enjoy listening to together."

Mark has received attention for many of his songs including First Place in the Unisong International Song Contest as well as honorable mention in the John Lennon Songwriting Contest.
